Role of Standing Committees in the CUPE Saskatchewan Structure

Standing Committees are advisory bodies to the Executive Board of CUPE Saskatchewan and act as a resource on policies, issues and programs.

Mandate

CUPE Saskatchewan's eight (8) Standing Committees have goals and objectives that are outlined in Appendix "C" of The CUPE Saskatchewan Constitution and Bylaws. Additional duties may be assigned to a committee by the Executive Board. Committees report to the Executive Board.

Committee Membership

Each Standing Committee has three (3) members.

In even years, two (2) members are elected at the Annual Convention. In odd years, one (1) member is appointed by the Executive Board. At any given time when a vacancy exists, appointments may be made to fill a vacancy.

Membership terms are for twoyears (or a specified shorter period of time in the case where the appointment fills a position left vacant).

A member of the Executive Board is designated to serve as a liaison to a committee.

The Aboriginal Council Committee composition is distinct from all other committees, with its membership elected in alternating terms from among delegates of the Aboriginal Conference held on an annual basis.

Committee members must be members in good standing of a Local Union affiliated to CUPE Saskatchewan. Members shall only be eligible to sit on one (1) Standing Committee at any given time. Members of the CUPE Saskatchewan Executive Board, including alternates, or trustees are not eligible for committee membership.
