

CUPE IN SASKATCHEWAN

The Canadian Union of Public Employees is Canada's largest union.

As a member of CUPE, you are a member of a CUPE local union comprised of you and your coworkers from one or more employer.

CUPE Saskatchewan unites CUPE locals across the province and works at the provincial level for legislative, policy and political change. Locals affiliate to CUPE Saskatchewan — a provincial division of CUPE. Together, we stand up for fairness, resist privatization of public services, defend workers' rights, work to improve the political environment for collective bargaining, and provide resources, coordination across regions and sectors, community outreach and educational opportunities. CUPE locals build solidarity and strength through affiliation.

CUPE HAS
30,000
MEMBERS IN 120 LOCALS
ACROSS SASKATCHEWAN

CUPE
Saskatchewan
Your Community Union

MEMBERSHIP SECTORS

HEALTH CARE

CUPE is the largest health care union in the province, representing over 13,600 health care providers in hospitals, long-term care, home care, community rehabilitation services and mental health services.

K-12 EDUCATION

CUPE represents nearly 8,000 education support workers in 20 school divisions in the province including school bus drivers in various school divisions.

UNIVERSITIES

CUPE represents support workers at the University of Saskatchewan and University of Regina including academic assistants and sessional lecturers. CUPE also represents students' union staff at both universities.

MUNICIPALITIES

CUPE is the largest union representing municipal workers in communities across the province, delivering a network of reliable civic services.

LIBRARIES

CUPE represents workers in eight public library systems: Regina, Saskatoon, Lakeland (North Battleford area), Palliser (Moose Jaw area), Parkland (Yorkton area), Southeast (Weyburn area), Wapiti (Central Saskatchewan) and John M. Cuelenaere (Prince Albert).

SOCIAL SERVICES & COMMUNITY-BASED ORGANIZATIONS

CUPE represents workers delivering and supporting the network of social services in the province through the provincial government or in various community-based organizations (CBOs) operating group homes, vocational centres and support services for people living with intellectual and/or physical disabilities, support programs for people with mental health issues, addictions and crisis intervention services.

CHILD CARE

CUPE represents workers in child care centres throughout the province.

BOARDS & AGENCIES

CUPE represents members at the Legal Aid Commission, Saskatchewan Human Rights Commission, SPCA, SCIC, friendship centres, community clinics/medical clinics and various labour organizations.